

J A I L E D ! FOR TELLING THE TRUTH

John
Tyndall

John
Morse

A TRAVESTY OF JUSTICE

THE SENTENCES of imprisonment passed on John Tyndall and John Morse at Southwark Crown Court last month were a disgraceful travesty of justice. Indeed, the outcome of the trial must surely be regarded as one of the most blatantly outrageous examples of injustice ever to have been perpetrated in a British court of law.

The decision to indict the Chairman of the British National Party and the Editor of this newspaper on trumped up charges of inciting racial hatred was, of course, a political one; and so, ipso facto, the two defendants were subjected to what amounted to a political trial, despite the denials of those who initiated the proceedings and participated in them.

However, what cannot be denied is that the draconian sentences given were out of all proportion to the offences which the two men were alleged to have committed. It is quite intolerable that in an age when child molesters, drug pedlars, rioters, rapists and even murderers often receive very light or "suspended" sentences, two British patriots should be jailed for a year simply for expressing their sincerely held beliefs and telling the truth.

On passing the sentences, the Judge told Messrs. Tyndall and Morse that in the jury's opinion their intention in publishing and disseminating British Nationalist, Spearhead and various other leaflets was to "create a probable risk of hatred between coloured and white races and between Jews and non-Jews." Quite how the jury could possibly know what either of the defendants intended is hard to say, but one thing is clear: had a policy of stopping all further coloured immigration and repatriating those immigrants and their offspring already here been enforced, as so frequently advocated by John Tyndall, John Morse and others in this paper and elsewhere over the years, there would be no racial hatred in Britain today, real or imagined.

From this it follows that those who are really responsible for the racial turmoil, riots and related problems currently prevalent in Britain are the politicians, doctrinaire multi-racialists and naive do-gooders who abound in the ruling echelons of our society. Whether by commission or omission, these people have aided and abetted the influx of racial aliens into our midst, thereby changing the character of British society out of all recognition, and for the worse. It is they and not the likes of John Tyndall and John Morse who should be languishing in prison; and one day, if there is any justice at all, that is precisely where some of them may find themselves.

Meanwhile, those who oppose us will be sadly mistaken if they imagine that they have succeeded in silencing us. Far from it: we

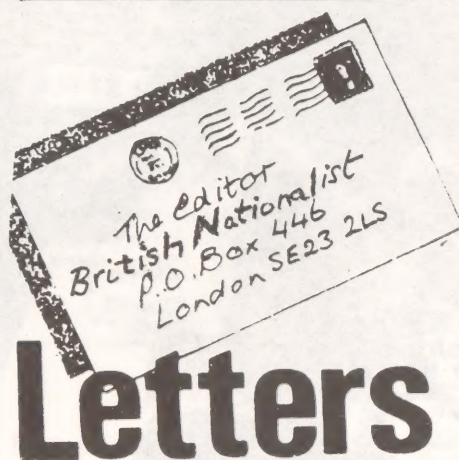

Contd. on back page

ON THE 16th JULY, AT SOUTHWARK CROWN COURT, at the end of a seven-day trial, party Leader John Tyndall, and John Morse editor of British Nationalist were each sentenced to a one year term of imprisonment, for charges brought by the Director of Public Prosecutions under the notorious Race Relations Act.

John Tyndall and John Morse had been charged with publishing material liable to cause "race hatred", i.e. writing articles which presented a staunchly pro-British defence of our way of life and of our values, in the face of the multi-racial nightmare engulfing large parts of our land — articles that dealt seriously and sincerely, honestly and courageously with the present reality of the nightmare and with the future that all too clearly can be rationally expected. It was, in effect, for standing up and saying, "Put the British people First," that John Tyndall and John Morse had to answer before the court.

JOHN MORSE

Sir,—I would like to convey my outrage at the jailing of two more patriots, whose only "crime" was to tell the British people the truth. John Tyndall has devoted his whole life to the cause of British Nationalism and for him to be sent to prison for publishing the truth is the ultimate treachery.

If it is the aim of the Establishment to deter people from being active on the Nationalist side of politics then I can let them know now that they are on a loser. Following my jailing for two months recently on similar charges, local membership has doubled and we are twice as active now in Leeds than we were before. In particular we are finding that young people are quite disgusted at the jailing of Nationalists, especially at a time when rioters, muggers and child molesters walk free from the Courts every day.

The message must be sent out loud and clear to the Courts and to the Government: YOU CAN JAIL US BUT YOU CANNOT STOP US.

DAVID OWENS
Leeds

Sir,—There is a good point in Mr. Colin Jordan saying, "The Party is Over." Mr. Leon Brittan had a Bill passed last summer to clamp down on racist literature, but it does not come into full operation till 12 months later. We learn that Magna Carta, Britain's charter of freedom has been scrapped, all but for two or three items, so would they be waiting for these to be scrapped also.

E. SIZER
London W.C.1

The prosecution team consisted of four barristers: three Jews, by name Cassell, Solly and Topolski, and a Black. This team obviously represented, in person and in interest, the ethnic minorities. It was this interest and viewpoint which prevailed during the trial. The judge, Derek Clarkson, told the all-white jury that they were to look at the case from the viewpoint of Blacks, Asians and Jews. "Would a Black, Asian or a Jew feel insulted or abused by what the defendants had written?" — that was the question which the jury had to consider, according to judge Clarkson. And it was this which prevailed, not the expression of the simple truth. The facts of black crime and coloured immigration, and the facts of the differences between the races, and the right of Britons to expound a viewpoint on these matters, these all lost out. The jury took its cue from the Establishment and found in favour of the immigrants. The judge, after speaking of "crime" and "illegality", then sentenced the two Englishmen to a year's imprisonment each.

It is clear from this trial that politically the whites have lost this country, for the time being at least. It was explicit at this trial, the last of the current series of Race Act trials, that the viewpoint of the immigrant is to prevail. Truth and the whites' point of view are now "incitement to racial hatred" — a "crime" punishable by imprisonment.

So John Tyndall and John Morse join other fine men and women, jailed for stating truths contrary to the Establishment. In recent times in this country, David Owens of Leeds BNP and Joe Pearce and Martin Wingfield of the National Front, and earlier Robert Relf. This does not mean the end of the BNP or even a slowing down of our activities — on the contrary. As the statement made by J.T. just prior to the trial makes clear:

Sir,—I feel strongly, like most Nationalists, that these iniquitous sentences must be exposed and resisted. I suggest that we launch a "Free Tyndall" campaign which will cause the politically illiterate to ask the appropriate questions and which will also wrong-foot the liberal left. I think that this campaign should be supported by a poster demanding, "Free Speech — Free Tyndall".

STANLEY CLAYTON-GARNETT
Leeds

Sir,—The shocking news of the savage sentences handed down against John Tyndall and John Morse prove beyond a shadow of doubt that the established power of liberal democracy both fears and hates the emerging force of the BNP.

Free speech is no more since the multi-racial regime was imposed on the British people. To make public comment about the multi-racial status-quo is to run the risk of losing one's livelihood, as has befallen Malcolm Skeggs and David Owens, or one's liberty, as has happened to John Tyndall, John Morse, David Owens, or having to meet heavy fines.

When the people are awakened to the threats and hazards of this multi-racial regime there will be a backlash the like of which we have never seen before in this country. When that day dawns there will be a reckoning and those who have instigated the houndings and the persecutions and the repression will be dealt with.

B. J. CLIFTON
Cardiff

Sir,—Do give my greetings to John and John; I wish them courage. For us all it is a difficult time, but believe me: The Truth is on our side. It is a terrible shame that our own people are punished — because they love their race and culture.

DESPITE THE IMPRISONMENT OF JOHN TYNDALL AND JOHN MORSE, THE FIGHT FOR TRUTH WILL GO ON

In the event of both of us or just my going to prison there will inevitably be some temporary deterioration in the running efficiency of the party. However the problems will only be temporary, and on the positive side there could be benefits in the way of publicity and public sympathy attracted. Whatever happens, these problems will not stop us, but will only strengthen us in the long run!

Elsewhere in this issue we detail our propaganda material, posters and stickers etc., of our "Jailed for telling the Truth" and "Free Speech for Whites" campaign.

We feel ourselves fully entitled to fight for these particular truths. According to a recent opinion poll, sixty five per cent of the population feel that Britain is in danger of being swamped by peoples of different cultures. As for the truth about black crime, the Home Office recently revealed that the number of blacks serving prison sentences is excessively disproportionate to their number in the population — about ten times more.

We know that the truth will out. The corrupt and vicious Establishment know that there is a reckoning coming — which can start at the polls. And as for the simple truth of black crime, it is now such common knowledge that even the Establishment media has to broadcast it.

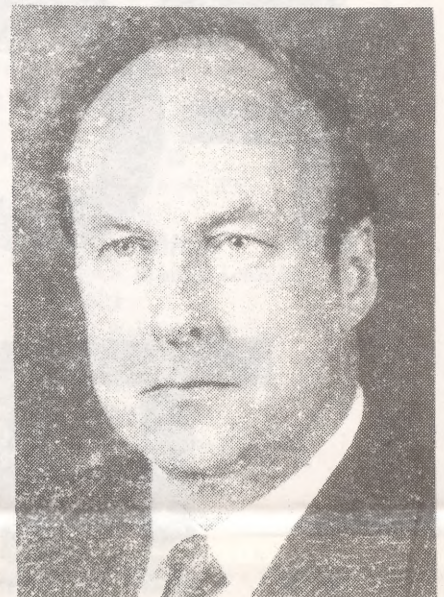

On the personal level there are two contributions of great importance that supporters can make: firstly there is still a sum of £440 owing for the legal costs of the trial — which sum may well increase if the appeals go forward, this needs to be paid; and secondly our readers can be assured that letters of support expressing well-justified anger at the trial and its outcome are deeply appreciated.

and to Mr. John Morse, L26448, with the same address.

Also write your letters to the Editor, British Nationalist; we can make your sense of outrage at this injustice public, and plain to the whole world. Please understand though that the two political prisoners are very limited to the number of letters that they may write (limited in fact to one letter a week) — but there is no limit to the number they can receive.

JOHN TYNDALL

Sir,—The legal profession has apparently managed to get the phrase "tell the truth" re-defined as "inciting racial hatred", and thereby made illegal.

With such diabolical distortions of language and logic, few will doubt that alternative means of expression will be inevitable.

T. S. MORLEY
Douglas, Isle of Man

Sir,—As the political show trials continue with a vengeance against those who warn of the multi-racial nightmare in Britain, one becomes more acutely aware that we live in a country which no longer tolerates freedom of political expression. Now it seems that even newspaper editors are to be gagged by the Government's iniquitous Race Laws. The two most recently made Political Prisoners of the Race Tyrants are John Tyndall and John Morse, who are respectively Editors of Spearhead and British Nationalist.

There is strong feeling amongst BNP members that the Party should mount a nationwide campaign against these political trials, backed up by posters and stickers. As part of this campaign we should demand:

- The release of all British political prisoners now.
- The repeal of the repressive Race Laws.
- Freedom of political expression.
- Peace and goodwill through repatriation.

The incarceration of Messrs. Tyndall and Morse is a heaven sent opportunity for us to destroy the myth that Britons live in a free country. Let us grasp the opportunity and smash the myth.

MALVERN TIPPING
Rochford, Essex

Sir,—I am disgusted to hear of the imprisonment of John Tyndall and John Morse, for speaking the truth. Usually when people are imprisoned for voicing views contrary to those held by the Establishment, one thinks of regimes like the Soviet Union. Now we see people being treated in a similar manner here in Britain, a supposedly "free" and "democratic" land.

We will NOT be silenced. The fight for Truth will go on.
Free Speech — Free John Tyndall and John Morse.

TONY COLLINS
Hackney, London E.8

Sir,—I was outraged to learn of the prison sentence for John Tyndall. It shows that things are the same in all countries, and that they are all ruled over by the Jews.

MANFRED ROEDER
Butzbach, West Germany
Editor's Note: Manfred Roeder is a German Nationalist serving a thirteen year sentence (yes, thirteen years) because he helped expose the fraud of the "Holocaust".

Sir,—Democracy, I thought, was the rule of the majority, or the will of the majority.

But where race relations are concerned this is evidently not so — witness the imprisonment of BNP leaders, both local and national.

Is democracy — or at least Britain's style of it — stepping back toward the Dark Ages?
B. COUPE
Bradford

Sir,—On July 1st 1916, the battle of the Somme began. On July 14th and 15th 1916 Scottish troops, of which my father was one, aided by the South African Brigade attacked Delville Wood.

Three thousand plus South African soldiers attacked; at roll call 768 men answered their name.

It is fashionable at the moment, at local and national level, to criticise South Africa, but let's not forget the South Africans who fought and died for Great Britain.

DOUG HAMILTON

I don't believe in Appeals. The World-conscience has no address. The Rulers do not represent the World-conscience. They laugh over all the fine Appeals.

HERMAN HESSE, July 1955

LEEDS ACTIVITY - SATURDAY 27th JULY 1986

ON SATURDAY 26th July Leeds BNP defied a City Council ban on demonstrations and staged a Rally in front of the Council Chambers. The area in front of the Council Chambers had been dedicated to Nelson Mandela that morning and there was no way the BNP could let that happen without comment. Led by David Owens and Mick Gibson, a body of about fifty activists marched into the Gardens which had been named after the African terrorist and informed the police there that a Rally would be held. The police, confronted by our determined looking young men, agreed to our plan but called up reinforcements.

Local Organiser David Owens addressed the Rally and informed those present that if the Council were going to name areas of the city after African nationalists then it was the intention of the local BNP Branch to hold a ceremony in the near future to name a part of the city centre after John Tyndall, a jailed British Nationalist. As the Rally drew to a close a large number of Anti-Fascist Action, which had been mobilised for the day to try and stop a BNP Rally, attacked a section of our activists who promptly counter-attacked and drove away the Red scum, but not before the police had arrested two Leeds activists for alleged assault.

Following the outdoor Rally an indoor one was held at Leeds BNP headquarters and all present agreed it had been a successful day. Perhaps the most successful aspect of the activity is the fact that it has led to a mass defection of local National Front members to the BNP now that they see the latter as the only active Nationalist movement. The local Red groups are now up in arms about the fact that this Rally took place and are to lodge a formal complaint with the local Police Authority and the Council. Leeds BNP would like to thank Liverpool and Tyneside Branches, who brought a car load each to the Rally to support our local men on a very good day out for Nationalists.

AS PER THE Party's contingency plan, and as announced in Spearhead of July 1986, Richard Edmonds has been appointed Acting Leader of the Party for the duration of the imprisonment of Party Leader John Tyndall.

Mr. Edmonds will also take over the post of Editor of British Nationalist for the duration of the imprisonment of the Editor John Morse.

RICHARD EDMONDS Acting Leader

CONSERVATIVE STUDENT LEADER JOINS B.N.P.

MR. STUART MILLSON, a graduate in politics, and chairman of the eastern region of the Federation of Conservative Students until he left the Conservative Party in May, and chairman of the Monday Club students' group, has joined the BNP.

The decision of Stuart Millson, together with a number of friends and colleagues, to leave the Tories - "they are soft and hypocritical on race in an attempt to appease the black communities and bid for their votes" - and join the BNP generated considerable press interest and anger and anguish amongst the Tories.

Stuart Millson, an experienced platform speaker and editor of The Patriot, published in support of the BNP, is now active within the BNP.

B.N.P. SUBS: The party is shortly about to delete from its membership lists all those whose subs have not been paid beyond 1984. If you are one of these and want to remain a member, please get your money in quickly.
